Expanding Our Reach to Dads

It is a delight to hear from Marv Rees, one of our male advocates, share his perspective on our Men's Ministry and its impact here at the Center. We are deeply thankful to the Lord for answering our prayers by growing this vital area of the ministry and bringing faithful men like Marv who serve their clients with humility, wisdom, and Christlike compassion.

To God be all the glory!

*Kathryn Enloe
Director*

Many of you are deeply invested in our ministry to women facing crisis pregnancies, new moms, and young parents. But did you know our reach has expanded to dads as well? About a year ago, I completed specialized training that allows us to offer one-on-one mentoring for men through our male advocates. Since then, God has opened doors for us to minister to fathers as young as fifteen, all the way to single dads parenting teenagers.

Our Earn While You Learn program continues to be a powerful tool—now reaching even further into the lives of parents who have not had strong role models or healthy examples of parenting. It has been incredibly rewarding to watch these men step forward with a desire to understand their God-given role in the lives of their children. For many of them, practicing respect toward moms, partners, and wives; learning to listen; and training up their children in the ways of the Lord is a brand-new experience.

Please pray for us as we prepare to train an additional male advocate even as this newsletter goes to press. We are grateful for every opportunity the Lord gives us to invest in fathers and strengthen families for His glory.
