A Thursday Night Encounter

Attending Thursday Night Market Place is certainly a highlight for us where we enjoy a full evening of meeting people and talking about the things we love...God, life, and babies!

A couple of weeks ago, one particular family stopped by our table. A mother with her three children perused the materials, played Spin the Wheel, held the fetal models, and collected brochures. The mother was especially interested in various resources for her teenage daughter. As the family began to leave, the mother quickly turned around and came back to our table.

She shared that she became very emotional upon seeing us that evening. She recalled that eighteen years ago, she was a client of the Center and her mentor was Kathy Mundy. As she reminisced about her crisis pregnancy, she fondly remembered a conversation where Kathy impressed on her that every baby, including hers, has a purpose. She was grateful for the continual contact from Kathy through encouraging cards and periodic phone calls.

“Kathy was like a second mother to me.”

She wanted us to know that her 17 year old was alive because of the help and support she had received at Crossroads during a time of great uncertainty.

Hearing stories like these just fill our hearts with joy and gratitude to the Lord for what He has done through this ministry. Through conversations and relationships made at the Center, we marvel at how the Lord divinely weaves His tapestry in and through the lives we encounter.

What joy it is to see a glimpse of God’s divine handiwork!

Oh, the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! How unsearchable are His judgments and His ways past finding out! (Rom. 11:33)
